Remove Racial Bar, JFK Asks Businessmen

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has urged 100 business leaders to move faster in breaking down racial barriers in Southern stores, restaurants and theaters.

The businessmen were described in general as ready to "go home and start" desegregating their firms — many of them chains with branches throughout the South.

But a few of the businessmen who sat down with Kennedy at the White House Tuesday counseled him to go slow on legislation that would compel integration of businesses dealing in goods that move in interstate commerce.

The President, expected to ask Congress next week for just such a measure, was advised by two or three of the executives to give voluntary programs a little more time before resorting to compulsion.

But administration leaders, fearful new Negro demonstrations could erupt into a race riot, stress that the mood of the times is urgent.

Secretary of Labor Willard W. Wirtz, spoke of the need for urgent action as he shook a stick at labor unions who refuse to admit Negroes.

He pledged that he would, under orders of the President, use the full federal authority in cracking down on discrimination within unions.

If there is not some real progress soon, Negro leaders held out the possibility of mass protest demonstrations in the nation's capital similar to those which led to violence recently in Philadelphia.

At the closed White House meeting were business leaders from 25 states and the District of Columbia—most of them executives of chain stores, theaters, motels, and restaurants operating in the South. With the President were Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Many of the businessmen had attended another recent session at which the attorney general urged voluntary integration of public accommodations.

Milton Elsborg, president of Drug Fair Stores, Alexandria, Va., said most of the businessmen who commented on Kennedy's appeal voiced the general view that they would get started in the next few days at integrating their firms.

Repeatedly, according to the participants, the suggestion was made that business integrate without fanfare to avoid arousing strong local opposition.

Kennedy to Extend Trip to Hawaii

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has decided to extend his Western tour to include a trip to Hawaii where he will attend a mayors' conference.

White House Asst. press secretary Andrew Hatcher confirmed reports today of the Hawaii trip just as Kennedy was about to take off in his Air Force jet plane for Colorado Springs, the first leg of what was to have been a four-day Western trip.

It was understood that the President, who is pushing a civil rights campaign, is anxious to talk to the mayor of America's cities who are assembling in Hawaii.

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy took off today on a western tour that will include an overnight trip to Hawaii.

Announcement of the Hawaiian trip came just before the start of what had been scheduled as a four-state tour combining a look at space age defense with some old-fashioned politicking.

The White House said Kennedy had accepted an invitation to address a conference of the nation's mayors in Honolulu on Sunday. He will return to Washington on Monday, a day later than originally planned.

It was understood the President was anxious to talk to the mayors in connection with the civil rights campaign the administration is mounting.

More than 600 mayors, city managers and city councilmen—some from the Orient and Europe—were converging in Honolulu for opening Saturday of the first United States Conference of Mayors ever held outside the U. S. Continent.

The conference agenda will cover national security briefings and discussions on such municipal problems as urban renewal, and water and air pollution abatement.

Kennedy's jet took off from Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland at 8:34 a. m. EST for a three-hour flight to Colorado Springs, Colo.

Decision for Release Delayed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) —Pulaski Circuit Court officials decided Tuesday to delay action on a State Hospital recommendation that Billy Frank Gross, 27, who is charged with first degree murder, be released.

Circuit Judge William J. Kirby committed Gross to the hospital after doctors found him to be psychotic.

Kirby and Prosecutor John T. Jernigan said Gross could not now be tried for murder because he was found to have been insane at the time of the act and they hesitated to agree to his release.

Gross was charged in the shotgun slaying of Willie Harold Foster in Little Rock July 22, 1961.

Atomic War Can Happen, Airmen Told

By FRANK CORMIER
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., (AP) — President Kennedy said today the surest way to bring war is to embrace the idea of a nuclear stalemate—to believe that war is too terrible to happen.

In this fashion, Kennedy began a four-day Western trip on a somber note. However, in the same address prepared for the fifth graduating class of the U. S. Air Force Academy Kennedy wound up with a brighter prophecy.

"We believe," he said, "in the ability of man to triumph over the terrible forces he has created. We believe in the dignity of man and his eternal right to be free. And we believe, finally, that we are going to prevail."

The academy was the first stop on a fast-paced tour of four Western states that will give Kennedy an up-to-date look at space age defense plus a chance to do some old-fashioned politicking.

In his academy speech, Kennedy acknowledged that "new weapons of massive retaliation" have their greatest value because they tend to discourage potential war makers. But he said national security will not be achieved "simply by piling up bigger stocks of bombs or burying our missiles under bigger piles of concrete."

He noted that "human failures and follies have too often been the rule instead of the exception" in an imperfect world.

Then he declared: "The surest way to bring on 'the war that cannot happen' is to sit back and assure ourselves that it cannot happen."

As things stand, he said, "our national security, in a period of rapid change, will depend on constant reappraisal of accepted doctrine, on alertness to new developments on imagination and resourcefulness and new ideas."

The President emphasized that Air Force Academy graduates must be more than military commanders because "military policy and power cannot and must not be separated from political and diplomatic decisions."

In last October's Cuba crisis, he said, political and psychological motives and implications were equal in importance to "the military motives and implications of that reckless attempt to place offensive missiles on the island of Cuba."

Kennedy's appearance at the academy marked the first of two commencement addresses on his Western schedule and preceded a tour of the neighboring headquarters of the North American Air Defense Command.

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — About 120 employees of the Hanford Processing Plant at Clarksville struck Tuesday in a dispute over alleged unfair labor practices. The workers, members of the Butchers Union of America, set up picket lines after leaving the job.

The Rev. Mr. Eckert said he protested against the display after having telephoned the White House and learned that the flag was not being flown at half staff there.

Presbyterians to Observe Dedication

The First Presbyterian Church of Hope will celebrate Dedication Day this coming Sunday with a special Service Sunday morning at 10:55 and the Dedication Service at four Sunday afternoon.

Dr. R. D. Adams of Little Rock will bring the message at the Dedication Service. The Rev. William S. McLean of Texarkana will be the Official Representative of the Synod of Arkansas. The Rev. Robert A. Anderson of Gurdon, the Rev. John I. Fowler of Prescott, the Rev. T. Chalmers Henderson of Arkadelphia, the Rev. F. L. Powers of Lewisville and the Rev. E. C. Secoy of Nashville will be the Official Representatives of the Presbytery of Ouachita.

The church building was erected in 1933 and 1954 with the first Service being held in the new sanctuary on January 31, 1954. The church borrowed $75,000, from N. P. O'Neal and was given twenty years to repay the loan. The loan was paid in full on April 15th of this year, more than ten years ahead of time. The members of the church, following an old custom of the denomination, waited to dedicate the church until the debt was paid.

The Choir under the direction of Mrs. R. L. Gosnell will present special music at the Service. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The station, Donahue said, failed to keep an agreement made some time ago with the Pine Bluff Chamber of Commerce when the studios were moved to Little Rock.

The station maintained in its request that the Pine Bluff market was too small to enable it to survive.

Donahue said the station's record in this matter "is one of broken promises" and added that KATV belongs "to that segment of the business fraternity . . . which subscribes to the credo that the end justifies the means when the end is financial gain."

The findings and recommendation of the examiner are subject to challenge within 30 days. The recommendation becomes final in 50 days unless an appeal is taken from it or unless the commission initiates its own review of it.

Robert Doubleday of Little Rock, general manager of KATV, said Tuesday night he had not read the recommendation of the hearing commissioner and would not be in a position to comment until he did so.

Station Not Allowed to Move Tower

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Communications Commission Examiner Thomas H. Donahue recommended Tuesday that the request of station KATV for authority to move its Channel 7 television transmitter from near Pine Bluff, Ark. to near Little Rock be denied.

Donahue said in his report to the commission: "On the basis of this record, there is grave doubt that KATV, Inc. has the requisite character qualifications to be a broadcast licensee."

The station, Donahue said, failed to keep an agreement made some time ago with the Pine Bluff Chamber of Commerce when the studios were moved to Little Rock.

The station maintained in its request that the Pine Bluff market was too small to enable it to survive.

Donahue said the station's record in this matter "is one of broken promises" and added that KATV belongs "to that segment of the business fraternity . . . which subscribes to the credo that the end justifies the means when the end is financial gain."

Telestar Is Subject of Kiwaniis Meet

A talk outlining the scientific makeup and performance of Telestar I and II was given to Hope Kiwanis club Tuesday by Ralph Cook of Little Rock, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company engineer.

He presented a maze of technical data also on the use of light waves as a means of communication by tubes, reflectors and transistors. It was a most interesting and informative program, arranged by Fred Gray, but presented in his absence by Edward Aslin.

A featured speaker on next week's program will be Representative Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, who recently told a Little Rock civic club that the 1963 legislature was "lousy."

Mr. Croxton is from Rogers, and has been a member of the Arkansas House of representatives since 1957.

Would Refinance Bridge Bonds

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Highway Commission Chairman Wayne Hampton of Stuttgart said Tuesday that the state will benefit from a proposed refinancing of the Helena Bridge bonds and there is no cause for concern about the move.

Hampton said the state could save .18 per cent a year by getting a more favorable interest rate on the $5.5 million worth of bonds and that it would be able to pay about $30,000 in annual maintenance costs from toll revenues instead of from regular highway revenues as it is now doing.

A Helena group had protested the refinancing proposal, announced last week. The commission said the refinancing decision was made because bridge tolls had not come up to expectations.

Repayment of the refinanced bonds will be made on a new projected traffic count, Hampton said.

Wants Integration in Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edwin P. Neilan, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, called Tuesday for businessmen to participate in "working out dignified solutions" to integration problems.

In a statement, Neilan described as a hopeful note the initiative taken by businessmen in some communities.

"The good examples set by businessmen at Birmingham and elsewhere need to be encouraged in the interest of law abiding and economically healthy community life," he said. "The field must not be left to the extremists."

Wallace Told Not to Bar Negro Students

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A federal judge today barred defendant Gov. George C. Wallace from his avowed doorway stand against enrollment of Negroes at the University of Alabama.

The injunction by U. S. Dist. Judge Seybourn H. Lynne prohibits Wallace or anyone in concert with him from physically interfering with court ordered desegregation of the state institution.

The order does not ban Wallace from the campus.

In clear language, the Alabama-born jurist spelled out federal supremacy and swept away any vestige of validity in the state sovereignty power claimed by Wallace.

"The governor of a sovereign state has no authority to obstruct or prevent the execution of the lawful orders of a court of the United States," Lynne wrote in an opinion which ended in a moving appeal to Alabama's people.

The 56-year-old jurist took a dramatic departure from the stiff formality of court procedure to express a prayer that all Alabamians "will join in the resolution that law and order will be maintained."

With an air of pathos and concern, Lynne wrote: "I love the people of Alabama."

"I know that many of both races are troubled and, like Jonah of old, are 'angry even unto death' as the result of distortions of affairs within this state, practiced in the name of sensationalism."

Lynne did not elaborate.

The judge said it was clear that unless an injunction was issued, irreparable injury would result "from obstruction to the lawful orders of this court and the consequent impairment of the judicial process of the United States."

Wallace earlier had said he wanted to stand alone to confront the students.

"We don't want anyone at the University of Alabama except those who are authorized to be there," he told an educational fraternity.

Wallace announced he would go on statewide television tonight and Sunday to urge people to keep away from the campus.

The Army moved support units of trucks and other vehicles into Ft. McClellan, about 60 miles to the northeast, where 2,000 federal troops are on standby for possible use in racial troubles.

Armed with a federal court order a second Negro said he would join James H. Meredith today as a student at the University of Mississippi. School officials said no trouble was anticipated with the arrival of Cleve McDowell, 21, an honor student. Some federal troops still are on duty at the university, left there since the bloody rioting last fall when Meredith entered.

U. S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize said McDowell is qualified for the university's law school and issued an order directing school officials to enroll him.

Also in Mississippi, a Negro mass meeting rejected Tuesday night a proposal from Major Alton Thompson of Jackson that they end antisegregation demonstrations in return for the city's agreement to hire Negroes as policemen and school crossing guards. During the day young Negroes staged numerous small demonstrations and more than 30 were arrested.

Face Change of Modern Business

SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The glass sheath and curtain wall, the movable partition and year-around air-conditioning no longer are the daytime home only office workers in the nation's largest cities.

The modern office environment is beginning to mushroom in medium-sized cities that haven't seen a major new office building since the 1920s. And the changing face of these business centers may be the mar of the next construction boom, if the biggest cities should take a breather.

While many medium-sized cities have been making do with office accommodations 30 or more years old, their local industries have grown and have the ranks of professional people, all looking for more space. Big corporations are locating plants in all regions of the United States, and many now are sectionalizing command and so are in need of regional headquarters.

Drives to save downtown areas from blight also have started office building boomlets in many cities, large and small. Often this is helped along by federal funds. Buildings in smaller cities are expected to bring the total value of office construction this year to 8 per cent more than 1962, even if New York construction should slow down.

F. W. Dodge Corporation, construction news specialist, reports contracts let for new offices spurted in April. The total, involving all sizes of cities, came to $156,208,000. The largest contracts, those over $1 million, are: One in Chicago for $5 million; one in Boston, $5 million; two in Washington, D.C., $2.5 million and $2 million; one in Spokane, $2.5 million.

One leader in the office construction and remodeling business — Philip Heller, administrative vice president of Fischbach and Moore, electrical wiring contractors — says that in many medium-sized cities outside capital has to breathe life.

"Once an outside investor puts up a modern office building in a city that has put off constructing new ones for 30 years," Heller said in an interview, "others follow with local capital. And older buildings suddenly seem in need of modernization."

Fischbach and Moore now is working on or has completed wiring for office buildings in Lake Charles, La.; Kalamazoo, Mich.; Topeka, Kan.; Kansas City, Mo.; Seattle, Wash.; Bartlesville, Okla.; Torrance, Calif.; Bloomfield, Conn.; and Hobart, Ind.

Feeding the fire under the construction boom has been the build-up in funds looking for investment. Richard W. Baer Jr., vice president of the New York Life Insurance Company, told the annual Eastern mortgage conference of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America: "There was a grand total of almost $62 billion of new investment funds available from all sources in 1962 as against about $49 billion the year before."

Is there danger of overdoing the office building spurt? Elmer C. Bratt, head of the department of economics, Lehigh University, replies that by its very nature construction relates to local geographic situations, and talk of excess office building in New York and Los Angeles needn't apply to other places.

He sees a large and increasing need for office buildings. He notes that now there are two-and-a-half times as many office workers as during the last big building boom in the 1920s. He adds that each office worker takes more space on the average.

He sees a "need in 1975 at least 50 per cent above present levels."

Arkansas' Sikes Wins 2nd Round

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., downed Gordon Cosh of England 3 and 2 Tuesday to advance to the third round of the British Amateur Golf Championship.

Sikes, the U.S. public links champion, finished one under par for the 16 holes, drawing the comment of Cosh: "If he continues playing that sound golf, then he's going to be a hard man to beat in any company."

Sikes took the lead at the second hole when Cosh overclubbed and gained a two-hole lead at the sixth.

He downed John Salvesen of Scotland 1-up Monday in the first round.

State Increases Officer's Bonds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A steady increase in state revenues has led the State Board of Finance to increase the bonds required of principal state disbursing officers.

The board announced Tuesday the $500,000 bond of state Treasurer Nancy J. Hall had been doubled. It raised the surety bond of the Education Department disbursing officers from $50,000 to $100,000 and bonds of Health Department disbursers from $25,000 to $50,000.

A Fill-in Man Holds Down a Situation Until a Much Better Man Can Be Found

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It is the function of the "fill-in man" to hold a situation intact until a better man can be found to take his place.

Usually he takes the place of a departed predecessor who has left shoes behind which most people feel are too big to fit anyone left on the scene.

Thus arises the need of the "fill-in man," the temporary occupant of greatness. You find him in every area of human activity.

Nobody expects the "fill-in man" to reach the heights of his predecessor. But now and then, to the surprise of the world, it happens.

He carves his own niche in fame with certain bold and illustrious actions.

Such a man would seem to be Pope John XXIII.

It may seem presumptuous in the hour of his loss to speak of him as a "fill-in man." But no disrespect is intended. He was so regarded by many at the time of his election to the papacy.

Largely, perhaps, it was a matter of his age. How could the College of Cardinals elect a man nearly 77, after many ballots, to such an exalted post? Particularly after the long reign of scholarly Pius XII, who had won renown as "The Pope of Peace?"

But though many in the chancelleries of power might have regarded him as an interim Pope, John XXIII did not behave like one. He moved swiftly to meet the challenges of change.

With a mind poised toward heaven, he spoke of himself as "a servant of the servants of God," and in memorable human ways did all he could to make man more humane to himself.

He struck offensive mentions of other faiths—Jewish and Moslem—from his Church's rituals.

He recalled men's duties to each other across saying, "All of human greed, saying, 'All riches which come from the earth should be put at the disposal of all, according to God and justice. Earthly goods must be better distributed.'"

He caught the yearnings of all mankind—regardless of creed—as probably did no other Pope in modern times. In less than five short years he became a great bridge to religious tolerance—and potentially unity.

As he lay dying with his elderly sister mopping his feverish brow, a group of 10 persons here—only one of whom was Catholic—listened to news broadcasts.

"He was a truly good man," said one of the group, and it wasn't a Catholic. That feeling was typical.

The "fill-in man" had done a superb job. Humanity has lost a great champion, and the problem of the Catholic Church now is—to find such another.

Interest Rise on Short Term Loans

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Interest rates are rising on short-term loans. The increases stretch all along the line from the U.S. Treasury to lenders to business.

The question is whether this is a passing phase caused by special situations or a definite move by the money managers to tighten up on credit.

They could be acting to brake any incipient speculative flurry that some see starting in the stock markets. Or they could be bolstering the American dollar against foreign pressures stronger than Washington has officially admitted.

Also doubtlessly affecting money management thinking is the switch of late from fears of a recession to belief that business activity is due to expand at a faster rate.

The Treasury this week is paying more on its 91-day bills than it has in three years. The latest rate of 3.028 per cent thus swings higher than the Federal Reserve discount rate of 3 per cent charged on loans to its member banks. This is the basic rate on which banks scale their own charges to borrowers.

If the Treasury rate stays higher, pressure for an increase in the discount rate will be strong. This in turn would affect bank charges, in spite of the ample funds most of them have available for lending to business, to home builders, to seekers of consumer credit.

At the same time the Treasury was finding it must pay more for 91-day loans, private borrowers were finding they must pay more, too. Several sales finance companies raised by one-eighth percentage point the rates on promissory notes they issue and sell to investors. They use the borrowed money for loans to consumers.

Similar increases were made by commercial paper dealers. They sell four- to six-month notes for various industrial concerns and some finance companies.

Bankers acceptances also went up by the same amount. These are drafts guaranteed by a bank. Usually they are issued to finance international trade.

As a sideline to all these increases perhaps, prices of bank stocks generally advanced. Higher interest rates aid them to increase their earnings.

The Treasury probably wasn't too upset at having to pay a bit more or its weekly offerings of 91-day bills. The money managers have been striving for several years to keep yields on short-term loans high enough to discourage the outflow of hot money to foreign shores.

This highly volatile money is the sum idle at any given time and in search of quick in-and-out investment opportunities at the highest return. The flow of hot money to Europe in the past when yields there were much more attractive than here was one of the biggest items in the U.S. deficit of international payments.

The deficit, lasting now for five years, has put pressure on the value of the dollar in world markets, and has from time to time caused sizable loss of the U.S. Treasury's gold reserves.

The rise in short-term rates here could be temporary. And it could be confined to that market without affecting the long-term market where funds available for investment are still reported ample.

But if the interest rate climb reflects a change in policy by the money managers toward tighter credit, the effect could spread in time to the general economy—to borrowing for speculation, for business expansion, for home or commercial building, for building and carrying inventories.

Most Wall Street observers are betting today that moderately tighter credit is the new goal.

Baseball Title Goes to Bay City

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP) — Bay City did a virtual repeat Tuesday night of its upset performance last Friday against Greene County Tech and gained championship of the state high school baseball tournament.

Bay exploded for four runs in the fourth inning Tuesday night and dropped Tuckerman 7-4 in the playoff game of the tournament.

A similar early-game explosion led last Friday to a 6-2 defeat of the Paragould team. The championship game, scheduled Saturday night, was postponed because the death of Roy Byrd Jr., 17, a Bay player who died after being hit by a pitched ball in a Tuesday tournament game.

Tuckerman went ahead 1-0 in the third inning of the championship game but Bay came back with two runs in the same frame to regain the lead. Jerry Barnes came on in the fourth with the score tied 2-2 and held Tuckerman to two runs the remainder of the game.

Bay gained momentum in the bottom of the fourth when Eddie Morrison slammed a triple. Mildard Smith, the losing pitcher, walked the next two men to load the bases.

Larry Rawls' single brought in two runs and Barnes singled to drive in two more.

Tuckerman pulled Smith for Ronald Young, who retired the side before giving way to Toby Long.

Rawls got two hits in three times at bat. Barnes, Danny and Eddie Morrison got one hit to lead Bay in batting.

Ronnie Tiffie hit twice for Tuckerman.

Trophies were awarded by Johnny Burnet, executive secretary of the Arkansas Athletic Association.

Underground New York Not Really Known

By CHARLES WEST

NEW YORK (AP) — A man could live his entire life under New York City and his body would have to emerge into the air and sunlight only to be buried.

There is no room for graveyards in the vast and complex world inhabited by thousands and used by millions, beneath the city of concrete canyons and skyscraper mountains.

No map can depict the underground development. No man knows all that's there.

Diggers frequently turn up a long-lost item. Among other things they have found a forgotten British dungeon and a bootlegger's tunnel leading from the Hudson River to what was a prohibition or a speakeasy owned by Dutch Schultz.

Even at the turn of the century, builders of the city's first subway system weren't sure what they would find.

Writing 25 years later, the chief engineer, Gen. William Barclay Parsons, recalled: "Water pipes could be located by occasional valve boxes and the sewers by manholes, but little was known of their physical condition or connections."

"The gas company supposed that it owned pipes in certain streets because the householders received gas and paid for it; but as to how it was delivered, the company could not tell."

Each utility company and each city department maintains a separate map to show only its underground system. The development includes enough telephone cables and wires, almost 19 million miles, to string 75 lines to the moon; enough electric cable, 61,500 miles, to wrap twice around the earth and tie a bow as broad as the United States.

A person can live at a hotel in Brooklyn, shop at some of the best stores in Manhattan, attend concerts and visit museums, get a marriage license and answer a court summons, journey to the Bronx and Queens, and never go outside.

A youth in Queens—just to see if he could do it—rode all the lines on the subway with a single token. With the necessary doubling back he traveled more than 400 miles in 25 hours and 36 minutes.

Underground New York has developed its characters—like legendary Teddy May, the "Sultan of the Sewers," or Maurice the Bookman.

Salty, tobacco-chewing Teddy May died a few years ago at the age of 85 after spending a half-century working with the sewers of the city.

From May, city fathers got much of the information for the map of a 5,000-mile system which started haphazardly from a rooftop over boat canal. The roof became Canal Street and the sewer is still in use.

Maurice, a gray-bearded denizen of Greenwich Village who keeps his family name secret, has fought a running battle with concessionaires for years about the thousands of books he keeps stored in subway station lockers. Another character worked out an elaborate timetable of late trains and routes to enable him to sleep undisturbed by any of the subway system's 972 policemen, the fifth largest police force in the state. His experiences gave the title to the Broadway musical, "Subways Are For Sleeping."

Hope and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Thornton of Southgate.

Mr. and Mrs. David McKenzie of Dallas, Tex., announce the arrival of their first child on Tuesday, June 4. It was a baby boy who weighed 7 lbs., 9 ozs., and has been named Mark Walker. Grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Jim McKenzie of Hope and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walker of Little Rock.

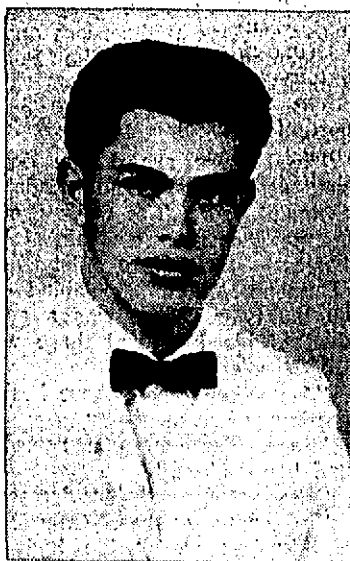

BERRY'S WORLD

"The worst part of it all was when the machine that replaced me gave a Bronx cheer as I left."

Nautical but nice is the formula for summer cotton knits. Strategically placed bands of blue or red give a crisp, cool look to this white double knit two-piece (left) with the color accent carried out in covered buttons at the back. White sleeveless shell and skirt (center) are topped by a yachting jacket in red or blue double knit. Sleeveless, jewel neck double knit shift (right) has bold dash of red or blue at neck and shoulders. The rest is white. All designs: Mia Editions.

DOROTHY DIX

HIS PEACH PROVED A LEMON

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: When I married, everybody said, "You are so lucky, your wife is such a good girl. She reads her Bible every day." She also taught Sunday School. I thought I'd picked a peach in the garden of love. It's taken me 12 years to learn my peach is a lemon.

While pretending to study the Bible my wife was really studying man in general and one in particular—a so-called friend we'd taken in our home till he could find a job.

Looking back I can recall little danger signals which I, being unsuspecting, ignored; such as my wife cooking special dishes for my love-burglar, sitting up with him after I'd gone to bed to "study" the Scriptures; paying more attention to her looks (she'd grown dumpy after the kids came), dictating, getting a permanent and so on.

"The climax came two weeks ago. I awoke at one a.m. No wife. Slipping on my bathrobe I hurried into the living room, switched on the lights and found her in the arms of my "friend." My yelling awoke the kids. They came running in bawling.

Their mother started telling me off. What did I, poor excuse for a husband that I was, expect? After all, she was only human. The other man shouted he, not a weakling like me, should be her husband. The children ran to me, crying, "We love our Papa."

Their mother began sobbing on the fellow's shoulder. What with her hysterics, the loud talk, and the children's shrieks, it was hell let loose.

In the first fight that followed, an old wound received in Korea reopened. I am now in a Veterans Hospital and my children with their mother. If and when I get out, what should I do—divorce or try to salvage my wreck of a marriage? The children, knowing what their mother did, hate her.

Dear Battered: As a rule men are more compassionate than women when it comes to straying from the fold. So don't be the exception. Have patience and, if possible, try to salvage your marriage. A lot depends upon your physical condition. This enforced stay in the hospital could prove a blessing. Give your doctor an honest account of your marital difficulties.

If he says it is possible to regain your health, then bend every effort to that end. If not, then tell your wife the truth and give her the choice.

If worthy of sincere love, she will put self last. Since three children are involved, she should think the problem through.

Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Divorces and Separations."

Dear Helen: I divorced in 1951 and have been going steady these intervening years with a mama's boy. Just recently his father died which makes the situation all the more impossible. Time and again I've said, "Go, and never come back!" But he always does. Here I am, growing no younger (44 my last birthday), with a married son, grandchildren and a daughter in college. Last night I issued an ultimatum to this man: either we marry by September or I quit for good. He insists that his mother will always come first. Is he using her as an excuse not to marry? —An Old Fool

My Dear: You may be mistaken but you're not an old fool. Yours is an error of judgment. Of course that man is stalling. Put him out of your life before you make the even greater mistake of marrying the procrastinator.

You're 44 years young, not old, with plenty of happy years ahead, provided you practice the philosophy of that old adage, "The Lord helps them who help themselves."

Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Travel and Work."

Dear Helen: I worry when I virtually have nothing to worry about. I adore my boy friend and my parents approve. They've allowed us to date three times a week since I was 16 (I am now 18). He phones me every night after we both get home from work. If he doesn't call by six, I'm fit to be tied, fearing that he's met with an accident. To make matters worse, he is a sleepy jack. Thought of him high up in the air with nothing between him and eternity but straps and a rope sends me into near hysterics.

Do all girls in love worry like this? How can I overcome these stilly apprehensions of mine? —Dear Worry: To be concerned is healthy; to worry corrosive. Those who give way to worry destroy not only themselves but those they love. What is worry but fear and what is fear but groundless apprehension (in most cases) fed by an imagination run wild?

St. John said, "Perfect love casteth out fear." Everytime you feel this worrying mood coming upon you, repeat that line.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Thinks State Can Bar Promoters

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett said today that the state Supreme Court's invalidation of four anti-integration acts Monday does not leave the state powerless to act against those who would promote racial litigation for their own ends.

He said the state still has the barratry and maintenance laws and the injunctive process, and a 1959 law which makes it a misdemeanor to refuse to leave a place of business upon request of the manager.

Bennett said he would ask for a rehearing on the acts declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. Hearings are seldom granted. Bennett wrote the acts in 1958 and they were passed at a special session of the legislature.

The acts prohibited soliciting lawsuits over integration, empowered county judges to demand information from organizations whose actions concern the schools, empower the attorney general to seize files of such organizations, and prohibited soliciting or donating money for anti-segregation lawsuits.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People attacked the laws in court and said they were aimed at impeding NAACP work in Arkansas.

Bennett said he stands ready to enforce the barratry and maintenance laws against any organization violating them. Barratry is soliciting lawsuits and maintenance is "stirring up litigation," Bennett said.

Boat Dock Leases

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Army Engineers said Tuesday bids would be taken July 30 in Little Rock for lease of six boat dock sites on Greers Ferry Lake in north central Arkansas.

The Doctor's Strange Secret

Dick got to his feet. He is not a very tall man — and he is too heavy through the middle. His dark hair is cropped short, and it is thinning. Some people find Dick's manner abrupt, and they resent it. However, he can be a good friend.

Now he walked to the space before the witness chair, his eyes turned to the jury. He seemed to consider each one before he spoke.

"Dr. Brieger," he said "would you say that more than one shot had been fired?"

"No sir," Brieger's eyes shifted to David Ostefeld.

"Fired at a distance you roughly estimate as 10 feet."

"Yes sir."

"Now will you please describe the operating room at High View Hospital as you found it that morning?"

"Well it was a little after 7:30 in the — uh — morning. Maybe almost eight o'clock when I got there. There were a couple of us — doctors in

Wills Sparks Dodgers Out of a Slump

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was Dragsville for the Dodgers without Maury Wills. But the fast cat has made the scene again and things are beginning to swing.

Wills, the National League's Most Valuable Player last season with his record 104 stolen bases, rejoined the Dodgers Tuesday night after his latest bout with a bad foot and promptly sparked them out of a losing skid.

He scored both Los Angeles runs, the deciding one after swiping his 12th base of the year, in a 2-1 squeaker over the Houston Colts.

By winning, the Dodgers maintained their third-place tie with Chicago's charging Cubs who knocked off the front-running San Francisco Giants 6-1. Bob Buhl pitched the Cubs to their eighth victory in the last 10 games with a five-hitter, while eight-game winner Billy O'Dell took his first loss.

The Dodgers and Cubs now are three games behind the Giants and 1½ back of the St. Louis Cardinals.

In the only other NL game played, the Milwaukee Braves netted three runs in the ninth inning with the help of reliever Galen Cisco's wildness and beat the New York Mets 3-2. Cincinnati at Pittsburgh was rained out, while St. Louis and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

Baltimore took over the American League lead, trimming New York 3-1 and dropping the Yankees to second. Elsewhere, the Los Angeles Angels shut out the Chicago White Sox 1-0, Minnesota whipped Kansas City 5-0, Cleveland overcame Detroit 6-4 and Washington clipped Boston 1-0.

Wills got the Dodgers on the scoreboard early when he led off against Houston's Dick Drott with a walk, raced to third on Jim Gilliam's double, and scampered home on a wild pitch. In the third, Wills singled with one out, stole second and came in on Ron Fairly's single.

The Cubs rapped the previously unbeaten O'Dell for nine of their 10 hits and chased the southpaw in the sixth inning. Ernie Banks and Ron Santo each had three hits and two runs batted in for the Cubs, who were aided by Orlando Cepeda's two errors.

Cisco walked across Milwaukee's tying run in the ninth inning and then forced in the winner by hitting pinch batter Mack Jones with a pitch. Prior to their last-inning scramble, the Braves had been stifled on two singles by ex-teammate Carl Willey and were trailing the Mets 2-0.

Hank Aaron got it started with a one-out single, then stole second and scored on Don Dillars' single. Another single by Tommie Aaron and a walk to Joe Torre filled the bases—setting the stage for Willey's departure and Cisco's entrance.

Upsets Leave 3 in Running

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Two member of the triumphant U.S. Walker Cup team were eliminated from the British Amateur Golf Championship today in second-round upsets, leaving only three still in the running.

Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla., runner-up to Labron Harris Jr., in the U.S. amateur last year and Charlie Smith, the power-hitting automobile dealer from Gastonia, N.C., were victims of a pair of almost unknown British golfers.

Gray was beaten on the 20th hole by Morrison Zuill of Scotland. Smith, troubled by an ailing back, took a 6 and 5 beating from Michael Lee of England.

Orioles Aided by the Home Runs of Powell

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Strongboy John (Boog) Powell, a Paul Bunyan with freckles, hasn't chopped down any trees but he's chopping up many a pitcher while keeping the Baltimore Orioles in the thick of the American League pennant scramble.

Providing Baltimore with a consistent home run threat, the 6-foot-3, 235-pound outfielder slammed a decisive two-run homer as the Orioles cut down the New York Yankees 3-1 Tuesday night and regained first place.

Powell a 22-year-old left-handed hitter who has learned to harness his Bunyanesque strength, drove his two-run shot off 23-game winner Ralph Terry in the fifth inning. It was his ninth homer of the season and 27th run batted in to go with a respectable .292 batting average.

Powell's homer gave the Orioles a 1½-game edge over New York. The Chicago White Sox dropped into third place, one game back of Baltimore, by losing to the Los Angeles Angels 1-0 as Dan Osinski pitched a three-hitter. Elsewhere, home runs by Earl Battey and Bob Allison powered Minnesota to a 5-0 decision over Kansas City behind Jim Perry's four-hitter. Washington's Tom Cheney shut out Boston 1-0 on five hits and Cleveland whipped Detroit 6-4.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs knocked off first-place San Francisco 6-1, the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped Houston 2-1 and Milwaukee edged the New York Mets 3-2. The only other game scheduled — Cincinnati at Pittsburgh was rained out.

Osinski brought his record to 4-1 and lowered his earned run average to 2.42 by pitching his first shutout in the majors for the Angels fourth triumph in the last five games. The only run off White Sox starter Gary Peters, 3-3, came in the second inning when Felix Torres singled and moved around on a hit batter and Lee Thomas' single.

Battey hit his 11th homer, with the bases empty, off loser Ed Rakow, 6-3 in the second inning and Allison connected for No. 14, with two men on, in the third. That was more than enough for Perry, posting his first shutout of the season and bringing his record to 4-3.

The Senators got their lone run off Red Sox starter Earl Wilson, 4-5, when Don Luck connected for his fourth homer in his last four games in the sixth inning. Cheney posted his third shutout with his first victory since May 1.

The Indians got the job done against the Tigers with a five-run outburst in the seventh inning. The key hits were a two-run pinch hit homer by Mike deLafoz and Al Luplow's two-run single.
